

4390. INSTITUTIONS FOR MENTAL DISEASES

A. Statutory and Regulatory Provisions.--The statutory provisions relating to institutions for mental diseases (IMDs) include two categories of covered services and a broad payment exclusion that can preclude payment for services provided to certain individuals in both participating and non-participating facilities.

1. IMD Coverage.--The original Medicaid legislation (P.L. 89-97) included a benefit for individuals 65 years of age or older who are in hospitals or nursing facilities that are IMDs. This provision is in §1905(a)(14) of the Act and regulations relating to this benefit are in Subpart C of 42 CFR 441.

In 1972, the Medicaid program was expanded (P.L. 92-603) to include inpatient psychiatric hospital services for individuals under age 21, or, in certain circumstances, under age 22. This provision is in §1905(a)(16) of the Act. Authority for using additional settings was enacted in P.L. 101-508. This benefit is currently being provided in a wide variety of psychiatric facilities. Regulations for this benefit are in Subpart D of 42 CFR 441.

Both IMD benefits are optional, except that inpatient psychiatric services for individuals under age 21 must be provided in any State as early and periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment (EPSDT) services if they are determined to be medically necessary.

2. IMD Exclusion.--The IMD exclusion is in §1905(a) of the Act in paragraph (B) following the list of Medicaid services. This paragraph states that FFP is not available for any medical assistance under title XIX for services provided to any individual who is under age 65 and who is a patient in an IMD unless the payment is for inpatient psychiatric services for individuals under age 21. This exclusion was designed to assure that States, rather than the Federal government, continue to have principal responsibility for funding inpatient psychiatric services. Under this broad exclusion, no Medicaid payment can be made for services provided either in or outside the facility for IMD patients in this age group.

3. IMD Definition.--In 1988, P.L. 100-360 defined an institution for mental diseases as a hospital, nursing facility, or other institution of more than 16 beds that is primarily engaged in providing diagnosis, treatment, or care of persons with mental diseases, including medical attention, nursing care, and related services. This definition is in §1905(i) of the Act and in 42 CFR 435.1009. The regulations also indicate that an institution is an IMD if its overall character is that of a facility established and maintained primarily for the care and treatment of individuals with mental diseases.

Facilities with fewer than 17 beds that specialize in treating persons with mental disorders can provide the types of services discussed in item 1 if they meet the regulatory requirements to provide these institutional benefits, but these facilities are not technically IMDs. Because IMDs are defined to be institutions with more than 16 beds, the IMD exclusion applies only to institutions with at least 17 beds.

B. Guidelines for Determining What Constitutes an Institution.--When it is necessary to determine whether an institution is an IMD, the IMD criteria listed in subsection C must be applied to the appropriate entity. In most cases, there is no difficulty in determining what entity to apply the criteria to. But in cases in which multiple components are involved, it may be necessary for the HCFA regional office (RO) to apply the following guidelines to identify the institution to be assessed. Components that are certified as different types of providers, such as NFs and hospitals, are considered independent from each other.

1. Are all components controlled by one owner or one governing body?
2. Is one chief medical officer responsible for the medical staff activities in all components?
3. Does one chief executive officer control all administrative activities in all components?
4. Are any of the components separately licensed?
5. Are the components so organizationally and geographically separate that it is not feasible to operate as a single entity?
6. If two or more of the components are participating under the same provider category (such as NFs), can each component meet the conditions of participation independently?

The RO may also use other guidelines that it finds relevant in a specific situation. If the answer to items 1, 2, or 3 is "no," or the answer to items 4, 5, or 6 is "yes," for example, there may be a separate facility/component. If it is determined that a component is independent, the IMD criteria in subsection C are applied to that component unless the component has 16 or fewer beds.

C. Guidelines for Determining Whether Institution Is an IMD.--HCFA uses the following guidelines to evaluate whether the overall character of a facility is that of an IMD. If any of these criteria are met, a thorough IMD assessment must be made. Other relevant factors may also be considered. For example, if a NF is being reviewed, reviewers may wish to consider whether the average age of the patients in the NF is significantly lower than that of a typical NF. A final determination of a facility's IMD status depends on whether an evaluation of the information pertaining to the facility establishes that its overall character is that of a facility established and/or maintained primarily for the care and treatment of individuals with mental diseases.

1. The facility is licensed as a psychiatric facility;
2. The facility is accredited as a psychiatric facility;
3. The facility is under the jurisdiction of the State's mental health authority. (This criterion does not apply to facilities under mental health authority that are not providing services to mentally ill persons.);
4. The facility specializes in providing psychiatric/psychological care and treatment. This may be ascertained through review of patients' records. It may also be indicated by the fact that an unusually large proportion of the staff has specialized psychiatric/psychological training or that a large proportion of the patients are receiving psychopharmacological drugs; and
5. The current need for institutionalization for more than 50 percent of all the patients in the facility results from mental diseases.

D. Assessing Patient Population.--The review team applying the guidelines must include at least one physician or other skilled medical professional who is familiar with the care of mentally ill individuals. No team member may be employed by or have a significant financial interest in the facility under review.

In applying the 50 percent guideline (see §4390.C.2), determine whether each patient's current need for institutionalization results from a mental disease. It is not necessary to determine whether any mental health care is being provided in applying this guideline.

For purposes of determining whether a facility is subject to the IMD exclusion, the term "mental disease" includes diseases listed as mental disorders in the International Classification of Diseases, 9th Edition, modified for clinical applications (ICD-9-CM), with the exception of mental retardation, senility, and organic brain syndrome. The Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM) is a subspecification of the mental disorder chapter of the ICD and may also be used to determine whether a disorder is a mental disease.

If it is not possible to make the determination solely on the basis of an individual's current diagnosis, classify the patient according to the diagnosis at the time of admission if the patient was admitted within the past year. Do not include a patient in the mentally ill category when no clear cut distinction is possible.

To classify private patients when review of their records is not possible, rely on other factors such as the surveyor's professional observation, discussion with staff of the overall character and nature of the patient's problems, and the specialty of the attending physician.

When the 50 percent guideline is being applied in a NF, the guideline is met if more than 50 percent of the NF residents require specialized services for treatment of serious mental illnesses, as defined in 42 CFR 483.102(b). Facilities providing non-intensive care for chronically ill individuals may also be IMDs. All NFs must provide mental health services which are of a lesser intensity than specialized services to all residents who need such services. Therefore, in applying the 50 percent guidelines, it is important to focus on the basis of the patient's current need for NF care, rather than the nature of the services being provided.

E. Chemical Dependency Treatment Facilities.--The ICD-9-CM system classifies alcoholism and other chemical dependency syndromes as mental disorders.

There is a continuum of care for chemical dependency. At one end of the spectrum of care, treatment follows a psychiatric model and is performed by medically trained and licensed personnel. If services are psychological in nature, the services are considered medical treatment of a mental disease. Chemically dependent patients admitted for such treatment are counted as mentally ill under the 50 percent guideline. Facilities with more than 16 beds that are providing this type of treatment to the majority of their patients are IMDs.

At the other end of the spectrum of care are facilities that are limited to services based on the Alcoholics Anonymous model, i.e., they rely on peer counseling and meetings to promote group support and encouragement, and they primarily use lay persons as counselors. Lay counseling does not constitute medical or remedial treatment. (See 42 CFR 440.2(b).) Do not count patients admitted to a facility only for lay counseling or services based on the Alcoholics Anonymous model as mentally ill under the 50 percent guideline. If psychosocial support provided by peers or staff without specialized training is the primary care being provided in the facility, the facility is not an IMD. The major factor differentiating these facilities from other chemical dependency treatment facilities is the primary reliance on lay staff.

Federal matching funds may not be claimed for institutional services when lay/social treatment is the primary reason for the inpatient stay. Facilities may not claim Medicaid payment for providing covered medical or remedial services in a nursing facility or hospital to patients admitted for treatment of chemical dependency and simultaneously claim that they are providing only lay or social services to those same patients when the 50 percent guideline is being applied. Facilities also may not avoid having their chemically dependent patients counted as mentally ill under the 50 percent guideline by withholding appropriate treatment from those patients. Facilities failing to provide appropriate treatment to patients risk termination from the program.

In determining whether a facility has fewer than 17 beds, it is not necessary to include beds used solely to accommodate the children of the individuals who are being treated. Children in beds that are not certified or used as treatment beds are not considered to be patients in the IMD and therefore are not subject to the IMD exclusion if they receive covered services while outside the facility.

4390.1 Periods of Absence From IMDs.--42 CFR 435.1008(c) states that an individual on conditional release or convalescent leave from an IMD is not considered to be a patient in that institution. These periods of absence relate to the course of treatment of the individual's mental disorder. If a patient is sent home for a trial visit, this is convalescent leave. If a patient is released from the institution on the condition that the patient receive outpatient treatment or on other comparable conditions, the patient is on conditional release.

If an emergency or other need to obtain medical treatment arises during the course of convalescent leave or conditional release, these services may be covered under Medicaid because the individual is not considered to be an IMD patient during these periods. If a patient is temporarily transferred from an IMD for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, however, this is not considered a conditional release, and the patient is still considered an IMD patient.

The regulations contain a separate provision for individuals under age 22 who have been receiving the inpatient psychiatric services benefit defined in 42 CFR 440.160. This category of patient is considered to remain a patient in the institution until he/she is unconditionally released or, if earlier, the date he/she reaches age 22.
